FROM OUR N. YORK CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1854.

Disasters by sea and disasters by fire, have marked painfully the opening of the New Year. Of all the sea disasters, however, the case of the steam ship San Francisco—drifting helplessly about the Ocean, with its 7 or 800 souls on board—excites the deepest anxiety. A whole regiment of U. S. Artillery, with women and children, are on board—besides the crew—without means of making headway by steam or sails. Happily, the vessel is new and strong—and it seems to be the confident opinion of sea-faring men—as it is, I understand, of her owners, Messrs. Aspinwall—that the crew and passengers are safe. If so, it cannot be doubted that some one of the vessels sent out to cruize for the disabled craft will fall in with her. Two of our finest coasting steamers have gone out, and the U. S brig of war Dearborn was to sail yesterday on the same errand. But what a humiliating fact is it, that our whole naval establishment, which now costs nearly Ten Millions annually, could not furnish a steamer to go out forthwith on this errand of mercy, and recourse was therefore had to the mercantil marine.

Of fires, second in extent to that of the Harper establishment, was the conflagration of Saturday night, of the beautiful Tripler Hall and Lafarge Hotel, just all but ready for opening, and most sumptuously furnished. The destruction was most complete. There was so many pleasant and brilliant associations with Tripler Hall—in which your Jenny Lind will not fail to participate—in their artistic character—not in the political, which they would seem to bear at home. It was certainly the most beautiful public Hall I ever saw any where, and I have seen it filled with more beauty—hushed to rapt silence by the exquisite notes of the Swede—than will ever meet my eyes on earth again—and yet—I do not lament the destruction of that Hall, for I never saw it crowded that I did not feel the terrible insecurity to life, in case of an alarm of any kind—occasioned by its faulty construction—its single stairway for the discharge of several thousand persons. It was a trap for human life—and beautiful and gay as it was, all the more dangerous. We shall learn to build, I hope, all edifices designed for public uses with more reference than heretofore has been common, to the two great requisites of ventilation while occupied—and of ready convenient aumitories, as in the old Roman amphitheatre they were called—whereby a building, which for attendance at its exhibitions "unpeopled Rome," could be emptied of its tens of thousands in an incredibly short time and without confusion. There is no public building in the U. S. scarcely—known to me—where this caution for the safety of life is adequately observed.

Congress, since the holidays, shows little more industry than before. Here are six weeds of the Session gone, and nothing done—and little probably matured for action. The various schemes for a Pacific Railroad are developing themselves—whether to conflict with each other, and thus prevent any decision—or to coalesce upon some Compromise route, remains to be seen. I think some Railroad so important, so urgently necessary—that I would be willing to consent to almost any route, so that a beginning should in earnest be made—but the lobby, which this year is said to be in greater force than ever—and which only looks at a measure, as it may swell its dishonest gains, and not as it may promote the public interest—the lobby will not willingly permit any arrangement between conflicting projects—however the country might gain by it—if such arrangement disappoint it of its unclean harvest—and the lobby—at the seat of State Governments—and at the seat of the Federal Government—is becoming more and more dangerously, and more unblushingly every year, a part of our institutions.

We are looking for the Baltic steamer, now 14 days out—a long trip for her. The habit of looking for the stated arrivals of these vessels—becomes almost as much a want—as that of one's breakfast at the stated time—and dissatisfied Nature rebels alike in each case unconsciously—against delay. From the Pacific, too, we are anxiously awaiting later news, to be assured of the manner of the winding up of the Sonora buccaneering under Gov. Walker! as he styles himself. How the U. S. authorities are to justify themselves for permitting the departure of the second detachment, especially in the Amilia, in open day, and with full knowledge of their purpose and destination, it is difficult to conceive. Mexico will hold our government to a strict responsibility for such a neglect of duty. There can be no treaty with Mexico hoped for, while we countenance or refuse to punish such open piracy upon her people and possessions. They help Santa Anna in his imperial projects, quite as much as they damage us, in reputation at home.

A FORTUNATE MAN.—From the report of the Commissioner of Patents in the matter of the pistol patents of Samuel Colt, of Hartford, Conn., it appears that he has already realized over one million of dollars clear profits, and the Commissioner estimates the profits yet to accrue before the patent expires at over one million more.

☞ The "Softs" of Pensylvania are denouncing Simeon Cameron, late U. S. Senator, and a "hard," in unmeasured terms. They accuse him of resorting to the most corrupt expedients to procure his return to the U. S. Senate, of subsidizing the press, seducing the members of the Legislature with the socialities of his house, and various other things too numerous to mention. The idea of accusing a Pennsylvania politician of corruption or of the use of questionable means in accomplishing his own purposes is too rich entirely.—Buffalo Com. Advertiser.—

REAL ESTATE IN GALENA.—The price of real estate in Galena and vicinity, is perhaps raising as rapidly as can be reasonably desired. A few days ago, a tract of thirteen acres, out of the city, was sold for $300 an acre, and the owners have since had an offer for it at near $100 an acre advance. Last Saturday, the property near the lower end of the town on which the Sash Factory stands, was sold for $4,467 50, at auction. It was purchased about a year ago for $2,850.—Advertiser.

☞ Quite a spirited effort was made in the Kentucky Legislature, on Tuesday, for the removal of the seat of government to Louisville.—The matter, however, was laid on the table by a vote of 60 to 35 in the house.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO THE SENTINEL.

MADISON, Jany. 16th '54.

In Senate this morning, there was a railroad, and also a plank road, charter introduced. More special legislation!

Senator West introduced a bill repealing chap. 50 of the laws of 1853. This was a law making sundry amendments to the School law. If the Legislature makes haste, it can be repealed before any one knows that such a law was even passed.

E. G. Ryan's account for services (?) was handed in, and referred to a special committee, Messrs. Hunter, Loy and Whittlesey.

In the matter of the contested seat from Rock County, involving also others from Washington and Waukesha, Judge Dunn, from the Judiciary committee, reported in favor of the sitting member; Senator Wakely promised a minority report.

In the House, at the opening, Mr. McIndoe, representing Portage and Marathon, was sworn in.

Among the petitions was one presented by Mr. Hadley, from the Banks of Milwaukee, praying for the repeal of the small-bill law. Mr. McCracken, of Marquette, presented one from the board of Supervisors of that county, asking the Legislature not to meddle with the State roads in that quarter. It is timely. Every winter, we have here a host of cormorants with bills appointing themselves commissioners to lay out state roads, so that they can draw pay therefor. Better leave these things to the local boards, where the other course is not absolutely necessary.

A threatening cloud in the shape of a petition from Brown county, for the removal of the county seat, was presented to the view of the House by Mr. Desnoyers.

Among the resolutions, the most noticeable was the following, by Mr. Worthington, of Waukesha:

That all Committees are instructed, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, to report adversely to action upon all bills or petitions which contemplate legislation for special objects where there are general laws applicable to the case; and if they shall deem legislation necessary, to report such bills for general laws, or amendments to existing laws, as shall provide for the deficiency.

If this passes to-morrow, and I earnestly hope it will pass, or something very like it, the committees will have no excuse for meddling with that which the Constitution takes out of their cognizance, and we may fairly expect a short session.

Mr. Webster, of our city, has introduced a bill providing for the repeal of the law abolishing capital punishment, and reviving the provisions of law contravened by the act of last winter. There seems scarcely any prospect of the passage of the bill, so far as my knowledge of the views of members extends, although I have not made many inquiries.

Bills were introduced providing for an increase of the pay of Clerks of Circuit Courts—to amend the charter of the Lake Shore R. R.—to pay E. G. Ryan's claim of $3000, &c. &c., when the Assembly went into Committee of the whole upon the Governor's Message, and referred its various subjects to the Appropriate Committees. Among the numerous references were the following:

The Prohibitory Liquor Law, to the Judiciary Committee. (This was on motion of Mr. Worthington, a friend of the law, and was so referred, although there was some opposition. Several members, while expressing their willingness to let the friends of the law perfect it, gave notice of their intention to oppose it in any shape. Mr. Hull, of Grant, said that he should fight it as long as opposition would avail, and Gen'l Crawford, of our county, gave the temperance men fair warning that they were in for a fight with him.)

Messrs. Knowlton, Orton, and Remington, of the Committee, are in favor of the law.

The Assessment Laws, to Committee on State Affairs.

Grants of Public Lands, to the State Lands Committee. (We shall get a report from them against what I believe to be the sentiment of the people, and in favor of the iniquity. So I think.

Internal Improvements, to Committee on Railroads.

Emigrant Agency, to Select Committe of five.

Rivers and Harbors, to Com. on State Affairs.

Insane Asylum, to Com. on Education.

Mining and State Geologist, to Com. on Mining and Smelting.

Laws for Murder, to Com. on Judiciary.

Exemption of Railroads from tax, to Com. on Judiciary.

Publication of Laws, to Com. on Printing.

Fines belonging to School Fund, to Com. on Education, &c.

Deaf, Dumb and Blind, to Committee on Charitable and Religious Institutions.

Pacific Railroad, to Committee on Railroads. Dr. Bartlett (F. S.) moved to refer the part referring to the Slavery Compromise to a select committee of 5. Of this, in common courtesy, he would have been Chairman, and the House decided not to give him a chance for a report, by refusing the reference, by vote, of 20 to 30. Not long after, however, the same gentleman moved the reference of the passage relative to Kossta to a select committee of five; and the House innocently took the bait, and swallowed it hook and all!

I send you a copy of the Iowa Journal of Education, which has been handed to me by Dr. Ladd, late School Superintendent, containing an interesting account, furnished by him to editors, of the condition of our Wisconsin Educational System. It gives, in a compact and readable form, an abstract of the present condition of the system, and that condition is one of which we may well be proud. Thanks to the intelligence of the people of Wisconsin, there is no probability of any meddling with that system in order to foster a sectarian spirit; at least none for some time to come.

The Assembly adjourned to 3 P. M., but on meeting at that hour, there was found to be nothing to do, and the House adjourned after a short session. There was an attempt, by a sudden move for suspension of all rules, to put through a bill dispossessing the State Agricultural Society of its pleasant room in the basement of the Capitol, but the move failed. The room is wanted for Committees; as things are now, there is not a single room in the building for the Committees of the Assembly—a very bad arrangement or want of arrangement, certainly.

The State Agricultural Society—the Executive Committee,—has been in session for some days, and has closed up its business for 1853. It has directed the establishment of an 8 page monthly publication, to be circulated freely, and contain, all matters pertaining to the Society. An arrangement has been made with the Board of Regents of the University for a course of lectures on Agriculture. The relations of the Society's Chemist, Prof. Lathrop, of Beloit, have been adjusted, and arrangements made for a prompt analysis of soils sent in for examination. Simeon Mills, of this place, the Treasurer, resigned, after the satisfactory adjustment of his accounts and receiving the thanks of the Society for his services. Talbot C. Dousman, of Waukesha Co., is chosen his successor.

Tuesday, 9 A. M.—There was a "gracious time of fooling," last night, one Andrews, the enterprising keeper of a faro bank here being initiated into the O. E. O. of 1001, with all the solemn ceremonies of that sublime order. He went through the interesting affair with a great deal of gravity, it is said, proving that Dr. Worcester is not the only verdant individual in the country. W. H. W.

☞ Simeon Draper has been unanimously re-elected President of the New York Board of City Governors. Those who have been at all familiar with the zeal, the kindness and the untiring industry with which Mr. Draper has devoted himself to the important and laborious duties of this office, will not be surprised to learn that his associates have again designated him as their President. Few men give themselves up so entirely to duties which bring no other compensation than the inward one of having conferred happiness upon the destitute Stranger and the unprotected Orphan.

REFORMS.

The Constitution and Laws of Wisconsin fix and define the salaries of the several state officers. These salaries are generally low, and in some cases less than the services required are worth.—But having been established, and men elected to fill the stations, with full knowledge of the legal compensation, they ought not in justice or reason to complain. The effect, however, of this condition of things has led to a system of glaring extortion—not to say fraud and peculation—in the charges of the school commissioners, which it is high time was stopped by legislative interference and severe penalties.

It is definitely ascertained that the amount of illegal charges upon the loans of school money, and the sale of school lands, amounts to full twenty thousand dollars already; and that at the same rate the present incumbents will receive for division at least six thousand dollars per year.—Now the salaries of these offices are definitely fixed, as also the amount of charges they may legally make (see Title 3, chap. 8, sec. 25, 35 and 43, Rev. Stat.) "in full for all services required by law, or the constitution of this State." Yet both law and the constitution have been continally violated—i legal and exorbitant fees taken, and officers enriched in spite of official oaths, and the complaints of the victims.

The following table exhibits the yearly legal salaries of these officers, and also about the average pluckings pocketed as school commissioners:

	Legal Salary.	Illegal Fees.
Secretary of State	$1,200	$2,500
State Treasurer	800	2,000
Attorney General	800	2,000

Giving the Secretary about $3,700 yearly on a legal salary of $1,200, and the Treasurer and Attorney General $2,800 each on legal salaries of $800 only. Add to this that with the exception of this last named officer, both of these personages are provided with clerks with salaries of $600 each per year—and that their illegal fees are mere stealings, taken without law or excuse, and the public will see the grossness of the wrong and outrage to which they have been subjected. The pilfering of a library, a safe, furniture, stationery, &c., from the offices in past times, bears little comparison to this systematic swindle.

While upon this subject, we may as well say here that the keeping of large sums of school money on hand, and denying it to applicants on good security, ought to be examined into and corrected. We have heard numerous complaints of this kind when it was well known that thousands of dollars were actually on hand waiting to be loaned, and yet applicants had to wait from three to ten months, or were altogether refused. It may be asked what object the officers would have in keeping large sums on hand and idle; but if it should happen by any means that instead of being really in the Treasury it was deposited in some place where the officer received what interest the School fund lost, the motive for denying loans may easily be surmised. When illegal fees exceed legal salaries, the public have little security from any form of peculation and malversation.

We call the attention of the Legislature to this subject, and ask them to reform such practices by penalties adequate to the purpose. It is a disgrace to the State to have such proceedings take place in any degree, and a scandalous outrage on public morals. We trust to see a law passed at once, putting an end, now and forever, to these extortions, and making any departure from the law a penitentiary offence. Unless a remedy is applied, we shall be called upon to collect and publish some most grievous instances of oppression, and to recur to the subject often until the change is effected.

To the Board of Directors of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Rail Road Company.

Gentlemen:

In obedience to your directions, I left Milwaukee on the 26th day of December, and proceeded west of the Wisconsin river, and commenced the prosecution of the objects of my visit to that portion of our line. I was greatly gratified in finding myself received with open hearts and pockets—the latter much better lined than many of us in the region of the lake shore and the older portions of the State, are apt to suppose—substantial evidence of which was abundantly furnished in prompt payments of five per cent, and large and numerous subscriptions to the capital stock of our road,

I held meetings, on my way to the Mississippi, at Webster's Prairie, Delton, Dill Creek, Morris' Mill, Russell Corners and Baraboo. The stock book, which is herewith returned, shows the gratifying increase of seventy-one thousand dollars subscription—the exclusive results of my visit.—all, I hesitate not to say, of the most reliable character, and the five per cents fully paid.

This amount may be doubled upon the same territory, and I am well assured by our very reliable and faithful stock-agents, that from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars increase of subscriptions can be obtained beyond the dividing ridge. The zeal manifested by our friends beyond the Wisconsin, proves their very just appreciation of the necessity and utility of a railroad connecting them with the Lake Shore, as well as the remunerative character of the investment.

At Baraboo, the liveliest interest is manifested, and a disposition exists to extend to us all energy, aid and encouragement in their power, which, let me here say, is very large. No wealthier section of our State can be found than the Baraboo valley; all the strength of which is at our disposal, if a satisfactory location of our road can be made. A meeting convened at the Court House, upon about one hour's notice, beyond the capacities of the place to accommodate.

I regard their hearty co-operation as certain—I would recommend the location of the line to be deferred for full examination. Every visit to and communication with our stockholders and friends in the country, tends to strengthen my first convictions—namely, that the La Crosse and Milwaukee Rail Road will be speedily built, and owned by the inhabitants along its line. This is as it should be, for while its earnings will be distributed amongst those who most deserve them—those earnings will be largely increased by the universal favor with which it will be regarded by its numerous friends. Nearly all my time was consumed in other engagements than stock taking, only four days having been devoted to that object. At three meetings held in Adam's county, a unanimous expression was made, in favor of a loan of credit of the county, to such amount as would be deemed judicious by our Company. The same disposition is uniform in La Crosse.

Yours,

E. D. CLINTON.

Milwaukee, Jan. 14, '54.

Mr. Ryan's Lecture.

Notwithstanding the uncomfortable cold of Monday evening, Young's Hall was filled, and very well filled to hear Mr. Ryan. We have not the means for any extended notice, but we simply chronicle a fact when we say that the lecture gave the highest satisfaction to as good an audience as our city can afford.

Much of the early part of the lecture was lost to those in the back part of the hall, ourself among the number, by the continued interruption of people coming late, but the lecturer's exhibition of the political, social and moral consequences of the change of woman's relation, advocated by the "strong minded" sect, his fine tribute to woman in her natural sphere, as mistress of a home and first teacher of mankind, his touching allusion to the gifted Mary Wolstoncraft, the first and ablest of the strong woman-kind, and his whole argument from nature, policy and morals, against the mistaken notion of elevating woman at the expense of a degradation of her own pure, true humanity and womanly dignity, we can never forget, and we are but one of many who would greatly like to see Mr. Ryan's lecture in such a shape that its wholesome truths, and high tone might reach a still larger audience than his, of Monday night.

For the Sentinel.

What is a Bailable Offence?

Messrs. Editors:

Your correspondent, "Crawford," occupeies a column and a half of your paper, in assigning ingenious and plausible reasons, why a "capital offence" is not now an "offence punishable with death." And, having established this premise, he draws the equally ingenious conclusion, that persons charged with "murder" are not now bailable.

The constitution provides that

"All persons shall, before conviction, be bailable, by sufficient sureties, except for capital offences, when the proof is evident or the presumption great."

And the statute, following it, is as follows:

Persons charged with an offence punishable with death shall not be admitted to bail, when the proof is evident or the presumption great, but for all other offences bail may be taken," &c.

These are declarations of right, sacred to the people, and not restrictions upon their liberties. At the time these great fundamental principles were adopted, we had two offences, (not one, as Crawford supposes,) "punishable with death," MURDER and TREASON.

The Courts held, up till the act of last summer, abolishing the death penalty,—that "capital offences" were offences "punishable with death," and that they were the only cases where the accused could not claim, as a legal and constitutional right, the privilege of being let to bail. No one complained. When however, the last Legislature provided that "murder" (and therefore "Treason" which is to be prosecuted and punished as murder, should be no longer punished with death, your correspondent discovered that the words of the constitution were "technical terms," borrowed from some other state or people; and that they had lost their original meaning. Hence he assumes that the officers of the law, are now bound to give to them a new and more rational construction; in other words, to seek out and follow the "manifest intention" of their framers. It may be assumed, without much violence, that the courts have all along supposed (ignorantly perhaps,) that they were following this "manifest intention." What was it? As I understand it, and as the courts and everybody else understood it, when the constitution was adopted,—it is to allow bail in all cases except such as were then "capital" in respect to their punishment. The constitution applies to no other offences. But, the Legislature has abolished the death penalty; and there is no longer any offence, capital in respect to its punishment. What has the Legislature done but to take all the cases out from the reach of the constitutional restriction? Has the Legislature altered the constitution; or changed the intention of its Framers? How do we get at that "intention?" By looking at the condition and wants of the community, at the phases of assumed philanthropy, or at the language of the instrument itself, so far as that language had a fixed, definite, legal meaning at the time it was used. I believe this is in accordance with Powell and Pothier, Bouvier and Real and Strong. Lawyers will not differ on this question, though modern reformers may. Reformers may say, true, the case is not now within the letter of the constitution, but murder is a "fearful evil," so is arson; so also, is rape. And the reasoning of "Crawford" applies equally to these offences. But suppose we assume that the framers of the constitution intended, by the phrase "capital offences," to designate murder and treason, and not such offences, whatever they might be as should then and afterwards be "punishable with death." And suppose a subsequent Legislature had made rape and arson "punishable with death," would persons charged with rape and arson, afterwards have been bailable? By the constitution (according to Crawford) they would have been, and by the statute, which prohibited it, in cases where the punishment was "death," they would not have been.

But such a construction is not sound. The "offence," where bail was not to be allowed, was described by its punishment; had new offences been made "capital," in this respect, the same provision would have precluded bail. And the Legislature abrogated capital punishment, they removed murder from the reach of the constitutional prohibition.

True, murder is murder still, though its punishment is changed. So is the constitution still the constitution, and its construction cannot be changed, to suit the convenience or exigency of the times.

But who shall say, that our enlightened and humane Legislature, when they mitigated the punishment, "after conviction" did not intend to modify the confinement "before conviction."—If they found the one, "unnecessary and barbarous," why should they not deem the other, unbecoming an enlightened people!

The plain truth is, the framers of the law of last summer, did not foresee its bearing upon other existing laws. But let them not insist on the infraction of other laws, that the evils of this may be avoided. And, above all, let them not hastily charge the Judges with "looking to the letter of the law only," and making "hasty decisions." If "murderers are set at liberty," the Legislature is the cause of it, and the Legislature is their only resort for a remedy. Let them apply for such new laws as may be necessary, laws precluding "bail" to persons charged with "murder," and requiring juries, on murder trials, to be kept separate from "the rest of mankind."

And if the "Bill of Rights," in our Constitution, too narrow to suit the limited notions of the enlightened and humane of this latter day, let an amendment be boldly prepared to bring it down to the standard of genuine philanthropy.

VINDEX.

Summary.

☞ Patrick O'Neil proposes in the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer, a plan for the relief of Broadway, as follows:

I propose to create in open space the facilities of travel 18 feet above the carriage way of Broadway, and from the Bowling-Green to Union Park, a distance of over two and a half miles by 42 feet wide, a continuous transparent double-track Railroad and Promenade around the Bowling-Green and Union Park, leaving the sidewalks open and uninterrupted, without hindrance to the present system of travel or interference with the owners of property in Broadway, except at their own option, as they could connect the second story of their buildings with the Promenade, which in my opinion none would object to, as the second stories would become equally as valuable as the first, as all light fancy business would be transferred to the second story, and all wholesale business transacted in the stories below.

LUMBER TRADE OF CLEVELAND.—The Forest City Democrat gives a statement of the business of fourteen of the lumber dealers of Cleveland and Ohio City, their imports summing up as follows: Pine Lumber, 42,553,273 feet; Shingles-wood, 1,210 cords; Shingles, 16,516,500; Lath 4,294,150; Cedar posts, 9,824. A full statement of the Lumber Business of the two cities would greatly increase these figures.—Chicago Journal.

☞ THE LUMBER TRADE.—We notice a large number of lumber dealers in town from St. Louis making arrangements to get their supplies from this market the ensuing season.—Chicago Journal.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the Custom House in St. Louis, Missouri, to be constructed of marble.

☞ The river is almost entirely clear of floating ice, and the ferry boats run with as much facility as they do in the middle of summer.—Det. Adv. 13.

☞ Gen. Cass submitted a resolution in the Senate on Thursday, which was considered by unanimous consent, and agreed to, that the Committee on Commerce be instructed to inquire into the expediency of making an appropriation for the survey of the harbors on Lake Superior, within the limits of the United States.—Detroit Press.

BANK FAILURE.—The Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank of Oswego, now of North Granville, has failed.

This is the Bank about which so much has been said in connection with the Farmers' Bank of Onondaga.

The notes are secured by doubtful mortgages, in part, so that they will be worth some 30 cents on the dollar.—Thompson's Bank Note Rep.

☞ The Detroit Advertiser says, "In the case of the propeller Wisconsin, seized and tied up by Collector White, last summer for landing railroad iron at Milwaukee, taken on in Canada, without reporting at the Custom House, the Secretary of the Treasury has made a decision, remitting the forfeiture, on the payment of a fine of $500 and the legal costs."

POLICE COURT—Jan. 17.

CHARGE OF ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—A man named George Scherz was tried on a charge of assault and battery upon Henry Rolfs, on the 14th January. The complainant and a witness for prosecution were sworn, when it appeared that a difficulty existed between the parties, relating to some money from a railroad. The parties met in a waggon shop when complainant struck defendant, complainant remarked that he had a double barrelled pistol, in his pocket, and that he would shoot defendant and put his hand in his pocket at the same time; Scherz then threw complainant down on the floor, and his hand was cut by falling on a stick of wood—complainant had previously struck defendant in his face three times. The court remarked that there was no use in taking up farther time, and found the defendant not guilty. The costs were taxed to the county.

(The complainant in this case, altho' clearly the aggressor, was allowed his fees as complaining witness, and the county has to pay him witness fees for his attendance. Such is the law as will be seen by a reference to sec. 20, chap. 89, R. S. The complainant was in the wrong, if the case had been reversed, the complainant becoming defendant, upon the evidence on the trial, a conviction would certainly have followed. Now upon what principle of justice, or right, should the complainant in this case, be allowed fees for having violated the statute? Why should the county of Milwaukee be taxed to pay a man for doing what was wrong, and a violation of the law of the land?

Again, such is the bonds of the law in relation to witnesses fees, that, if in the case as above reported in the Police Court the case for the prosecution had been sworn to by only the complainant, and the defendant had called two witnesses to prove a fact, which he has a right to do under the statute, and had proved a similar state of facts, that was proved by the complainant's witness, viz: a perfect defence—under the law as it is now, the complainant for swearing to a falsehood, would be allowed his fees, while the defendant for proving his innocence, would be allowed no fees. Thus the State of Wisconsin lends her aid to prosecute and to prove her citizens guilty; but denies her assistance to her citizens to prove themselves innocent. Will not some of our legislators see the injustice of such a law? Will they not see that it is similar to a premium for crime, in many instances? If an act was passed leaving it in the discretion of the Justice, and that where there was no probable cause, or where the Justice was satisfied in his own mind, that the fees should not be allowed, to deny them to the complainant and provide for awarding fees to defendant's witnesses, it would remedy a great evil; it would be of great advantage and would be an act of justice.

(REPORTER.)

TRUNK BROKEN OPEN.—A trunk upon which was the name L. Clapp, Hartford, Connecticut, and which had been cut and broken open, was brought into the police court, by constable Megarrigle, on Monday. We purposely omitted to notice it in yesterday's Sentinel, hoping that the truth would come to light, better without than with notice. The trunk had in it a Church record of the Church at Waukesha, and Wisconsin Church Directory, and a newspaper, a tooth brush and shaving brush. As near as we have learned since, the owner of the trunk, the Rev. Mr. Clapp, of Waukesha, was proceeding home on Thursday evening, when the trunk was stolen from the buggy and was found secreted in a snow bank by a boy living near the road, about a mile and a half from the city. The trunk is now in possession of the constable and can be obtained by the owner on calling.

Erie—Skies Brightening—Progress of Repairs.

Matters at Erie have assumed a more hopeful aspect during the past twenty-four hours. The work of repairing the track, and rebuilding, superintended as it is by the authorities of the General Government, has not been interrupted, and the highly excited condition of the public mind has changed since yesterday to a resolution to obey law; at least appearances seem so to indicate. The causes of this change it is not necessary to speak of.

The workmen proceeded with repairs until the rain drove them in last evening. The track has been laid from the Depot to the bridge, and this morning they went to work at the State street bridge. This, it will be remembered, was the first bridge destroyed.

At ten o'clock this morning nothing had been done on the part of the Erians.

M. B. Lowry, A. King and G. J. Morton, yesterday received citations to appear before Judge Irwin, at Pittsburgh, on Monday next. They are charged with "contempt of Court," in resisting and persuading others to resist the U. S. Marshal at the time that officer arrested the four individuals now in jail.

Sheriff Vincent has been enjoined by the Marshal to restrain him from interfering to prevent the re-laying of the track.

King and Lowrie Left for Pittsburgh.

The Mayor, Lowrie, and Morton, (he we learn by House's line,) left Erie this forenoon for Pittsburgh to answer to the Supreme Court for contempt. They went down via Meadville in a carriage.

All Erie turned out, had an immense procession, and escorted them out of town, with much ado.

At three o'clock this afternoon, all was quiet. No opposition was made to the track-layers.

A BOLD PAPER.—The London Punch, not having the fear of the Women before its eyes, enumerates the following as among the amiable weaknesses which the sex will never confess to:

"That she laces tight—That her shoes are too small for her—That she is ever tired at a ball—That she paints—That she is as old as she looks—That she has been more than five minutes dressing—That she has kept you waiting—That she blushed when a certain person's name was mentioned—That she ever says a thing she doesn't mean—That she is fond of scandal—That she can't keep a secret—That she—she of all persons in the world—is in love—That she doesn't want a new bonnet—That she can do without one single thing less when she is about to travel—That she hasn't the disposition of an angel, or the temper of a saint—or how else could she go through one-half of what she does?—That she doesn't know 'letter than every one else what is best for her—That she is a flirt or a coquette—That she is ever in the wrong."

The same paper audaciously publishes the following advertisement:

Something Like Leather!

RUSSIAN HIDES well tanned by Omar Pacha & Co., Tanners to the Emperor Nicholas, Moldo-Wallachia.

The Fault for Office.

From the Madison Democrat.

Some idea of the crowd in our town at the present time may be formed from the fact, that with our largely increased hotel accommodations, not a spare room was to be had last evening. As near as we can ascertain, the greater portion of the strangers, aside from the members of the legislature, are candidates for subordinate positions in the Legislature. This is an indication that the increase of loafers in the State is becoming truly alarming—for what, but an indisposition to work, and a predisposition to vagabondizing, would induce citizens to leave their homes and reputable callings to become firemen, sweepers, spittoon holders and lacquies to the members of the legislature; yet scarcely a county or a legislative district but furnishes one or more of these volunteer jazarons.—Legislation has exhausted nearly every expedient for abating this nuisance without avail. The constitution provides for but two assistant officers for each house—a clerk and Sergeant at-arms; but these officers are seldom elected till they are hampered with pledges to Tom, Dick and Harry for subordinate positions. The legislature of last winter thought they had hit it, in making the clerk of either house salaried officers, directly and exclusively responsible for the discharge of all the clerkly duties of each; but it makes no difference, there are as many applicants as ever, each clamorous that his particular member shall not dispose of his vote for Speaker or Clerk without a consideration in the shape of a bonus by way of sinecure to the said applicant for under clerk.

There is no way of remedying this disgusting evil than in the individual action of the members themselves. Let them abandon the system of paying for political services out of the State Treasury, or by pledges of paying places in the legislature, and the expenses of the State would not only be considerably lessened, but members would be at liberty to make the best selections for the principal offices, the disgraceful scramble and log-rolling in the appointments would cease, and many worthy men would be saved from degradation and from dissipated habits, induced by indiscriminate mingling with all sorts of men removed from the wholesome restraints of wife and children.

The Caloric ship Ericsson.

While opinion, or at least public curiosity has consigned to oblivion the Ericsson and its inventor, the line not closed during the past six months to idlers for that purpose which he promised to answer in his system at the end of the first experiment. The termination of his labor appears to be rapidly consummated, and shortly the Ericsson, ready to commence her trials, and will again occupy the attention of the entire world.

The modifications which Mr. Ericsson has introduced in his ship are very important. The old cylinders have been taken out, with all the pistons, furnaces, cranks, and regenerators with which they were accompanied. In the place of these cylinders, which were four in number, and of vast dimensions, disposed perpendicular to the axes of the ship, four other cylinders of less dimension, have been introduced in the direction of the keel; making with it angles of about forty-five degrees and more inclined towards each other. Four auxiliary cylinders have been placed on the sides of the principal ones, one on each side.

We see that the present machinery of Mr. Ericsson is composed of six cylinders, two of which drive the piston, and four auxiliaries—two pumping cylinders and two six feet in diameter and eight feet long. These two cylinders being of double capacity, and considered thereby, as capable of producing as much useful work at the four immense cylinders, with single capacity originally employed, because they will be worked at high pressure. In addition, in the new machinery the same air will be employed indefinitely, and we repeat it, at high pressure. Such is the chief difference which exists between the old and new machinery of Mr. Ericsson.

The new regenerator, although possessing a different form, will continue to operate on the same principle, and consequently constitute the chief feature of the entire economy of this system. It is, indeed, the soul of the Ericsson machine

Mr. Ericsson proposes to depart very shortly for Europe in his ship. He estimates that the Ericsson will attain now double the speed it attained during the divers trials of which we have heretofore rendered account.—Courier Des Etats Unis.

THE MISSISSIPPI AND ITS TRIBUTARIES.—The St Louis Christian Advocate contains a highly interesting article on the Topography and Hydrology of the Mississippi Valley, accompanied by a table exhibiting the Mississippi and its numerous tributaries. The author was unable to ascertain precisely the distance to which each stream was navigable, but he has satisfied himself that the aggregate exceeds twenty thousand miles, and that the total length of the great river, with all its parts, is 15,000 miles:

SHANGHAI.—The shipping returns from the port of Shanghai, show that the United States' trade is larger than any other for the past year, at that port. The arrivals at Shanghai during the year ending September 30th, 1853, were 175 vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 33,656 tons, viz:

MICHIGAN CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The cost of this Road to the present Company is $8,558,338,32. This includes $2 000,000 originally paid to the State. The receipts, during the six months ending Nov. 30, were $901,570,94, and the nett receipts, over all expenses, $415,011. The receipts of the Road during 1854 will probably be 33 to 50 per cent, greater than last year, and the nett income little short of $800,000.

This expectation is warranted by the rapid increase of the population and resources of Central Michigan, the completion of Chicago railroads, and the direct connection with the East via the Great Western Road.—Chicago Tribune.

☞ John J. Crittenden is returned to the Senate from Kentucky. No one can fill the station better. He is a man of generous impulses, able and felicitous in debate beyond most men who have ever shone upon that theater of wide legislative and administrative experience, and signal ability. No man will stand higher in that body, and among Whigs no man will be more prominent for the highest gifts in their power to bestow. Tribune.

RAPE OIL.—ANOTHER WISCONSIN PRODUCT.—We have been kindly presented with a small quantity of oil manufactured from rape seed, by Smith & Richards at the oil mill in this city, for the purpose of testing its qualities. We have used it in a hand lamp for the past week, and find it to be a superior article for the purpose of light. It gives very clear light, and is very economical as far as concerns the amount consumed.—Watertown Register.

SHUTTING THE STORES ON THE 17TH.—We understand that it is contempl ted by a large number of the merchants of this city to close their stores on the afternoon of the 17th, in honor of the opening of the Great Western Railway, and to leave themselves and their assistants at liberty to greet and welcome the numerous visitors to the city, and to take part in the festivities of the celebration.

The train which is to bring the visitors from the east is expected at Windsor at two o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, and every man in Detroit, who has the least idea of the benefit, which the opening of this road will work to this city, ought to be on the other side of the river, and on the arrival of the train be ready to make the welkin ring with a greeting to the iron horse as he utters his first shrill whistle on the eastern banks of the Detroit river.

There ought to be a large number in attendance. For that day all the ferry boats will be constantly running, and we hope to see Woodward avenue lined with the people of Detroit, and such a concourse on hand to greet the directors and the visitors to the City of the Straits on this occasion as will give evidence they fully appreciate the importance of the completion of the connection, that binds them indissolubly with the east, and is yet destined to make their city one of the links in the chain of railroads that is to unite the Pacific, the Mississippi, and the Atlantic.—Detroit Advertiser.

LAKE IMPORTS AT BUFFALO.—The value of Lake imports at Buffalo during 1853 was $36,972,297, being $1,128,542 more than last year. The falling off in flour, as compared with last year, is 323,966 barrels; wheat 124,000 bushels; corn 1,400,000 bushels; oats 1,100,000 bushels. There has been an increase in the receipts of butter of about 2 500,000 pounds; of bacon, 13,000,000 pounds; lumber 17,000 feet.—Cleveland Herald.

PROSPECTUS OF

Thos. H. Benton's Great Work.

THIRTY YEAR'S VIEW, of the workings of the American Government. Published by D. APPLETON & Co., New York, and sold exclusively by subscription.

During the last session of Congress, much no important public measure in which this active and distinguished statesman has not taken an able and decisive part, and been familiar with the influences, whether secret or public, which have urged forward or opposed each. He is therefore well qualified to write the history of this period.

This work will be completed in two volumes, the first of which will be published early in the year 1854, and will be brought down to the close of the administration of Gen. Jackson, and will thus form a complete work by itself, containing about 700 double columns, royal 8 vo. pages, and a superb Engraved portrait of Senator Benton.

Price $2.50, payable on delivery of the book.

The publishers, together with specimen sheets, can be found at the law office of Messrs. TUCKER & GARVEY; and the Agent will soon give an opportunity to persons desirous of subscribing to do so at their residences and places of business throughout the city and county. jan12

Proof Positive—Skeptics Read—Testimony! Testimony!!

HAMPDEN, Feb. 24, 1846.

Messrs. J. Curtis, Jr., & Co.—GENTLEMEN,

I have a word to say to you, in favor of Hunter's Cough Syrup. I have the past year used in my practice, two dozen bottles of it, which I had of you, and every bottle has done good. For eight years past, I have been in the practice of Medicine, and I never have found any thing so well calculated to operate so favorably in all diseases of the lungs as that is. I have known a hard, distressing cough, cured in forty-eight hours, by using (in broken doses) one bottle only. One case here in particular, or a man who was thought to have a seated consumption, troubled with a hard distressing cough. I set him have one bottle, and he had two more of you Agents, Mr. Whitmore. After using the 3 bottles, he has become well, and now labors every day. He told me lately, that Hunter's Cough Syrup was the means and only means of his cure. I have given it to infants, to children, to adults, and have the pleasure to inform you that it has done good in every case. I shall do all in my power to recommend it in the cases above named, not wholly for your benefit, but for the benefit of suffering humanity.
